Cary Institute of Ecosystem Studies

2014-Present

President, Cary Institute of Ecosystem Studies:

As President, I am responsible for leadership and oversight of the Cary Institute of Ecosystem Studies, an independent institution located on 2,000-acres of recovering forests in New York's Hudson Valley. With an annual budget of over $10 million, the Institute has a staff of over 100, including a core scientific staff of 14 Ph.D. scientists, who are joined by dozens of emeritus scientists, postdoctoral researchers, graduate and undergraduate students. The Institute is a world-class center for ecosystem science. Focal areas include freshwater ecosystems, disease ecology, invasive species, urban ecology, and biogeochemistry. The science program is complemented by the Cary Institute's renowned education, communication, and outreach initiatives.

Wildlife Conservation Society

2010-2014

Senior Vice President, Global Conservation Program. The position was created in 2009 to take on the direct line management of the Global Program's five regional programs (North America, Asia, Africa, Latin America, and Marine) and the management and technical programs that supported them (Conservation Operations and Conservation Support). In 2013, the oversight of the Wildlife Health Program was added to my portfolio. I also oversaw the Division's $87 million (FY14) budget and was an active participant in fund raising from private individuals, foundations, and government and agency sources. In 2013, I led the Science Subcommittee of the institutional strategic planning process overseen by our new CEO, Cristián Samper.

2004 – 2009

Vice-President, Conservation Operations. This position was created in 2004 to ensure the development and implementation of management systems to support the WCS Global Conservation Program that spans 52 countries with 2500 staff. Reporting to the Executive Vice-President, Conservation and Science, I was responsible for coordination with other divisions (Development, IT, OGC, Finance and Budget, HR), for development and management of the GCP budget (>$60 million in FY08) and for overseeing monitoring and evaluation of our field projects and programs. My position also included chairing the Strategic Planning and Review Coordination committee (SPARC) overseeing strategic planning at the global, regional, national, and landscape levels, and integration of planning with management systems. The position entailed significant interaction with, and representation to, the Board, partner organizations and governments, and colleagues around the world.

- 1996-2004 Director, Asia and Pacific Programs. Responsible for program development and administration of a portfolio of conservation projects and programs in 17 Asian countries in Central Asia, East and Southeast Asia, and the Pacific. Activities covered a wide range of topics, from implementation of a Masterplan for Wildlife in Sarawak, community based conservation programs in Papua New Guinea, to research and conservation of tigers in Nagrahole National Park, India and the Russian Far East. The Asia Program budget grew from $1.5 million in FY '97 to $7.5 million in FY '05. I had 17 direct reports, and a total staff of 350 in the region. Responsibilities included extensive contact with and management of donors, developing new funding sources, and representing the Society internationally (e.g. CITES, IUCN).
- Mar-Dec. 2002 Director (Acting) Africa Program. Concurrently with Asia Program activities, I was responsible for program development and administration of a portfolio of conservation programs in 14 African countries, overseeing a budget of $6 million in FY '03 and planning a budget of $15 million in FY '04.
